A Principle To Abide By

The Supreme Court is being asked by the administration to determine the constitutional limits on electronic surveillance by the government. Specifically, the court is being asked to uphold the administration's claim that the president of the United States and his attorney general may use such methods—without previously securing a judge's permission—to probe the activities of persons or groups suspected of domestic subversion.

More specifically still, the government will appeal a Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals decision. This upheld a lower federal court's ruling that a distinction must be made between electronic surveillance of foreign spies and of Americans who may be engaged in activities the government considers questionable.

Attorney General John N. Mitchell has been insisting for some time that he needs no judicial permission to use bugs or wiretaps or any other electronic spying methods against anyone under suspicion. The trouble with this is that it would give the government virtually unlimited power to pry into the private life of almost any citizen.

This is so because under the Mitchell interpretation of the attorney general's powers no magistrate would have to be satisfied that the government's suspicions were legitimate and reasonable. As a practical matter this would free the government of all restraints: that is, if it chose to do so it could spy on anyone at all and claim that the one spied on was suspected of subversion.

Though high officials have said that citizens can and should simply trust the Justice Department not to do any such thing, that is a siren song not to be heeded. The constitutional stricture against search and seizure without a warrant issued by a magistrate has an application here, we think. It is a sound principle, one we hope the Supreme Court will reaffirm in this connection.

Vets, Nixon Deserve Medal

Few commentators seem to have had anything good to say about the government's handling of the recent demonstration by Vietnam war veterans in Washington.

One even went so far as to liken it to the routing of the World War I bonus marchers in 1932.

The government's behavior, of course, was neither that evil nor that noble.

No matter how anti-Nixon or anti-Vietnam war one may be, it ought to be granted that it is natural for authorities to get a bit uptight when a bunch of people announce their intention of marching on a man on the nation's capital in order to oppose and discredit the government's policy.

Veterans may be special people, but not so special that they don't have to obey the law like everybody else—and the law against camping on the Capitol Mall was in existence long before the Vietnam war and the Nixon administration.

The government made a mistake, perhaps, by first getting an order from the Supreme Court implementing the law, then not using it and eventually asking the court to rescind it.

But at least officials had enough sense not to force a confrontation with the veterans. And for their part, the veterans had enough dedication to their mission not to provoke one, either.

Their mission was to appeal to the moral sense of the President and Congress. They may have succeeded better than they realized.

In any event, both sides deserved a Good Conduct medal for this affair.

Unfortunately, the same cannot be said for the demonstrators who came after them, deliberately courting arrest and violence.

A GLANCE Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

The 17th annual Delavan high school track and field meet Saturday was a great success—or so feels Jacksonville. The meet attracted 32 schools and 248 athletes competed, and the locals won the giant championship trophy easily. Ken Norton got 13 points and broke his discus record with a toss of 163'9".

Mayor Raymond S. Watson announced yesterday that he would nominate Charles Runkel for chief of police and Raymond Hayes for fire chief when the council meets Monday night. Runkel has been police chief for two years.

Alex Smith, Jacksonville carpenter, has been appointed to the new municipal post of building inspector. His salary was set at $200 per month.

Mrs. J. M. Bierhaus, 75, and her husband, 80, both lifelong residents of the Virginia community, died within 21 hours of each other Monday and Tuesday. Services will be held Thursday at St. John's Presbyterian church west of Jacksonville and burial will be in Walnut Ridge cemetery.

New members of the Winchester Kiwanis club are Emerson Gray, Carl Cannon and W. G. Watt.

Ulbricht Moved Aside For Tougher, Younger Man Europe May Be Headed For New Round Of Tensions

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
Europe, which has been relatively free of extreme international tension recently, may be headed for a new round of it because of the departure from power of East Germany's durable old Communist boss, Walter Ulbricht.

The frontier of East and West

Germany, along with divided Berlin, is the one place in the world where American and Soviet power are in direct confrontation, and neither appears to relish the possibilities. Each would like to ease the worry.

Now, however, the implications of the political change in East Berlin can be enough to explode any notions the Americans might have had about substantial withdrawal of military forces from the heart of Europe. There is reason to suspect that the outbreak of peace between the Germans has been appreciably deferred.

Ulbricht, though he had grumbled about West Germany to the point of becoming a nuisance to Moscow, was at the same time Moscow's unwavering servant who would act as Moscow wanted him to act and be obliged to forget about any real reward in the form of furthering his own party's ambitions.

Now nearing 70, Ulbricht has been moved aside for a tougher, younger man, Erich Honecker, reputed to be a granite hard-liner. To those who follow these things closely, this shatters hopes that East and West Germany can agree about such things as the status of Berlin and the movement of goods and people back and forth across the German frontiers.

That in turn is bad news for West German Chancellor Willy Brandt's hopes that the treaties he has worked out with the Soviet Union and Poland will be ratified in Bonn. There will be even more suspicion of Eastern intentions now that Honecker is in control of the East German Communists.

The Russians hurried — it appeared even to be unseemly hurry — to assure the world that they wholly endorsed the East German change, but the shift probably is a blow to the Kremlin, too. It wanted badly to have the Moscow-Bonn treaty ratified, especially now that the Soviet administration wants all the help it can get to carry out ambitious economic plans.

Too much peace between the two Germans could be risky for the East German party, and it seemed to be informing Moscow on that score. The East German party needs its enemy at the doorstep to excuse the tough measures it enforces at home. The lack of that enemy could produce a situation in East Germany not unlike that of Czechoslovakia in 1968. How would the Russians like it if they had to invoke the Brezhnev Doctrine in East Germany to put down a rebellious populace?

Honecker, 55, has the reputation of a cold and shrewd tactician. He has been a Communist for many years. Like Ulbricht, his immediate goal is to force West Germany to recognize the East as a sovereign state. His long-term goal is probably Communist domination of all Germany through political processes, in the manner of the "united front" takeover by the Marxists in Chile.

Washington Failures, Yes ...

But Don't Sell 'Big Ed' Short

By BRUCE BLOOMAT
WASHINGTON (NEA) — In his present difficulties, Big Ed Muskie may be haunted by the trials of Republican George Romney in 1967. But Muskie is not courting the kind of disaster which engulfed Romney even before the presidential year opened.

Romney was tagged as relatively ignorant on the most vital issue of the day — Vietnam. His "brainwash" statement seemed a confirmation. And he had a powerful adversary in Richard Nixon, skillful, resourceful, superbly assisted, building strength quickly in many areas.

Muskie's situation today is hardly comparable. He has a big organization which is not organized. He appears to neglect some political people, thereby bruising egos.

Muskie's managers candidly admit their failures. They have not been putting it together in a way that will please the urgent caller from Wyoming or Missouri or Massachusetts. And the front-runner for the Democratic nomination is expected to do better than that.

As a matter of fact, the 1968 Democratic vice-presidential nominee has some other problems that don't get mentioned as much as this business of bad contact with the politicians.

One veteran Democratic leader thinks Muskie's people have looked foolish in their bustling search for leftist liberals to lend visible support. At best it would be transparent window-dressing for a candidate whose real pull is in the broad center.

Some party men believe, too, that Muskie is buying future trouble in going for a cluster of regional political operators instead of a single wagon boss who knows the whole territory. These regional types (there may be three or four) are not all chosen yet, but few politicians feel the setup will work. It was a compromise decided upon when Muskie could not get the manager he wanted.

To outsiders, this organizational stuff is inside baseball — but it is important. The net effect of a regional political setup could be to throw a bigger load on the pressed general manager, the talented Bert Bernhart.

The lack of the sure touch in the early months of 1971 certainly has cost Big Ed whatever chance he may have had to lock up some delegates quickly.

This prospect seemed particularly bright in South and border states which were looking his way. Now some of the same southern leaders who were saying "Muskie is No. 1" are doing around others like Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington, Sen.

Hubert Humphrey and Rep. Wilbur Mills of Arkansas, the big man from Ways and Means.

It doesn't do Muskie any good, either, that money is so hard to come by. Keeping the salaries paid for his big staff in the political House on L Street in Washington is a hard chore. Humphrey is not helping by telling some of the biggies to keep their money folded.

With all this, however, Muskie remains a candidate of major promise. He is not likely to get caught in a "brainwash" caper. No rival of Nixon's skill and source threatens him — and that includes Humphrey. The only fellow with that kind of stuff is Ted Kennedy who keeps getting mentioned even though he insists he's out of it. Probably, too, Muskie's or (Turn To Page Six)

Ann Landers: When A Guy Kisses A Girl Where Does His Nose Belong?

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 15-year-old high school boy who lives in Dubuque, Iowa. Dubuque isn't exactly New York City so high school kids here don't know a lot of sophisticated stuff.

I have never kissed a girl but I am planning on doing it soon. In fact, I have the girl picked out already. Don't laugh, Ann, I really need help.

Please tell me—when a guy kisses a girl, where does his nose belong? I don't want anything to go wrong. Thanks a lot.—Planning Ahead

Dear Head: The nose goes right along with the rest of the face and it belongs wherever it lands. Please let me know how you did. I worry about kids like you.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 48 years of age and feel foolish writing to a paper for help, but I am terribly confused.

My husband died when our son was four. I raised the boy myself and he is very close to me. Jerry is now 14. Last year I met a widower who brought real happiness into my life. After 14 years of loneliness it was like a miracle. I am sure we could have been very content together. Financial security was no problem. We are both comfortable.

When I told my son I was considering marrying again, he became angry at first and later sullen. Finally he told me I had to choose between him and the man. So I stopped seeing my friend.

I am very depressed. I feel that perhaps I have made the wrong choice. Yet the mother in me says my first responsibility is to my son. Please give me your views.—Sally Mrs. Dear Sally: And how long has this kid been dictating to you? My guess is from the time he learned to talk. Run, don't walk, to the nearest phone. Get the man back, if you can. It would be a healthy move for both you and your son—unless, of course, the kid plans to spend the rest of his life bossing you around instead of marrying some girl he can tyrannize. In which case, my condolences to you both.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a married man and a father who needs help with a problem. My wife was spending money like it grew on trees and we had many arguments about it. Finally I became so desperate that I ran an ad in the newspaper saying I would not be responsible for her debts.

I live in Indiana and work in Chicago so I get home only on weekends. The Saturday after I ran the ad in the newspaper I went home and discovered that my wife had taken all the furniture and left with our two children. I'm sure she went to her mother's.

I don't care about the furniture but my children mean the world to me. Please tell me what to do.—Troubled Man

Dear Man: You should have written to me BEFORE you ran that ad, Bub, but what's done is done, so let's go from here.

Contact your wife and ask her to sit down with you and a counselor or a clergyman and settle your differences. Each of you has a legitimate beef. It might be that your wife spends money like crazy to get even with you for leaving her alone five days a week. The solution might be for you to work in Indiana or move your family to Chicago.

Law For Today

Q. My wife and I are ready to sign the contract for a home we want to buy. Our friends advise us to get a lawyer before we sign. Since we don't know any lawyers, where can we go?

A. You can contact your local bar association Lawyer Referral Service or call toll-free to the statewide service. The number is 800-223-8014. You will receive the name and number of an attorney in your area and you can make the appointment. The first half-hour conference will cost no more than $10.

Spring Concert Closes Season For Symphony

On Wednesday evening in Annie Merner Chapel on the MacMurray College campus, the Jacksonville Symphony Orchestra presented its Spring concert to a small but enthusiastic audience. It was an all-orchestra program that opened with Beethoven's "Overture to Egmont." "Egmont" is a play written by Goethe, the 19th century German dramatist, which deals with the struggle against Spanish tyranny in 17th century Holland. This overture is one of Beethoven's best shorter works; it has a somber beginning, a lyrical second part, and ends with a typical Beethoven grand window to a smashing conclusion. Maestro John Hayter and his musicians made the most of the fine material Beethoven gave them to work with.

The second number was "The Walk to the Paradise Garden" from "A Village Romeo and Juliet," an opera by Frederick Delius, an English-born composer of the early 20th century. I am sure it was far-out music for its time (1902), because the opening was vaguely based on folksong ideas, and then developed into a dreamy, impressionist mood that provided an absorbing place to listen to. A little girl from the Braille and Sight Saving School who sat back of me, said, after sitting in tense absorption, "Gosh, that was beautiful!" and I agreed with her.

Following the intermission, the orchestra presented the "Romance in C Major," for strings by Sibelius. But this was a romance from a Nordic country and a Nordic composer, and was anything but light and sentimental. Maybe love in cold Finland requires the warmth of heavy bass and strong melody that are in this piece. As usual the strings of the orchestra performed with proper appreciation of the music at hand.

The last number on the program was the symphony No. 4, "The Italian Symphony of Mendelssohn." This was an ambitious work for the orchestra, but it was performed in a satisfying manner. Typically Romantic in its total structure, the symphony includes melodic motifs that are passed from section to section of the orchestra. As the program notes said, only the last movement shows the direct influence of Mendelssohn's fascination with Italian life, when it includes a fast Italian folk dance. The concert was brought to a close on the high note of the whirling saltarello dance.

WARNS SPANISH AMERICANS MAY TURN TO VIOLENCE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph M. Montoya says an increasingly embittered and militant Spanish-speaking minority may turn to "terrible violence" unless it gets political power and equal opportunity.

Montoya, the Senate's only Spanish-named member, said he repeatedly has urged his people to work within the system and to be moderate.

But, the New Mexico Democrat said in a Senate speech Thursday, the discrimination and bigotry has barely lessened, something the returning veterans of Vietnam won't tolerate.

The Spanish-American jobless rate is nearly twice that of any other group, their illiteracy rate is five times higher than Anglo-Americans, they are the target of prejudiced law enforcers in the Southwest, and alone among the minorities their television image is a totally demeaning stereotype, Montoya said.

In the military services, he noted, Spanish-speaking Americans are drafted at disproportionate rates and their death rate in Vietnam is at an exaggeratedly high level.

Those who return face the difficulties — unchanged — they left.

YOUR BIRTHDAY AND ZODIAC

By STELLA WILDER

SATURDAY, MAY 8—Born today, you are not one who takes orders easily. Indeed, the most difficult period of your life will be the start of your career when lack of experience keeps you in a subservient position but intelligence and ambition make you resent it. You will have to learn to be a good apprentice, however, before you can be trusted to be a good "boss." Being low man on the totem pole will ultimately be a great learning experience for you.

You have a tremendous sense of the dramatic and must be on your guard against building up small things into large issues. You may find yourself tempted to exaggerate your position, your material and spiritual assets, your emotional involvements, and so on—but so long as you know the truth about yourself, so long as you are not the one you fool, you will always stand an excellent chance of setting things to rights in the end.

You can be depended upon to be as good as your word, but at the same time you are not one to give that word without a great deal of forethought. Promises you make, you will keep—for if you do not know ahead of time that you can keep them, you will not make them. With this attitude you are bound to disappoint others at times—but never after they have depended upon you.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Sunday, May 9
TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—You can be the primary mediating figure in today's transactions. Make sure that others are ready to cease the arguments.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—The wise Gemini will be consistent in his attitude toward other family members. Keep actions relevant to goals.

CANCER (June 22-July 22)—The strength and weakness exhibited today by Cancer should be enough to prove or disprove his claim to success.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 23)—Creative activity is important today. Be sure that you have all the materials you need for taking advantage of the creative urge.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—Even a superhuman effort will not keep you from making minor mistakes today. Accept your own responsibilities.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—It's up to you to make your own choices. The Libra who depends upon another to make decisions for him may forfeit all claim to gain.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23)—Morning worship brings you close to a genuinely calm frame of mind. Do what you can to help another to less tensions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Direct your gaze toward one who can help you to gain a sense of spiritual well-being. Don't deny a friend.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)—Eloquent assertions will gain you little if you haven't the evidence to back them up. Be quick with claims.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—Issues incomprehensible to you at this time stand an excellent chance of being cleared up later on—but only if you remain hopeful.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21)—Maintain a consistent and firm approach to the day's problems. Don't insist upon having things your own way—all the way.

ARIES (March 22-April 20)—Keep your enterprises on a completely human level. The Aries who expects miracles to aid him is in for disappointment.

Accident Facts For April '71

Accident statistics released by Chief of Police Charles P. Runkel for the month of April, 1971, for the City of Jacksonville:

Reportable accidents . . . 53
Accidents with injuries . . . 20
Primary cause of accidents, failure to yield the right of way . . . 12
Accidents to date, 1971: 266
Accidents, same period, 1970: 281
Days since last fatal accident: 206

Accident statistics indicate that Jacksonville residents are driving in a more careful manner.

Chief Runkel urged all drivers to have their vehicles safety tested free of charge at the annual Safety Check Lane scheduled for May 18-22. The temporary check will insure that every vehicle is in good operating condition.

REITHER on Beardstown

By Virgil Reither

BEARDSTOWN — Carol Hood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hood, 218 Adams street, and a graduate of Beardstown High school, continues to win honors at Stephens College at Columbia, Mo.

She is working on her Bachelor of Fine Arts degree and her most recent successes have been scored in a fashion show at the school.

Among the prizes she won were $25 bond for the best in modeling; most consistent performance in design and craftsmanship; a silver tray; best in dress suit in the use of a fabric class, given by the Eugene Labovitz Kansas City Fashion-Bilt Garment Company.

Judges included designers and other experts from the large garment establishments in New York, Kansas City and St. Louis.

Miss Hood will be employed this summer for the Warner company of Bridgeport, Conn. and New York City.

Her design work has attracted wide attention during her three school years and she has most recently done modeling work in Kansas City. Her own design in hats included one using pheasant feathers provided by her "hunter" father.

These activities also won her a $1,000 scholarship, applied to her tuition.

The new Julia Belle Swain, a steam-powered three deck river boat arrived in Beardstown Wednesday afternoon conjuring up memories of an old paddle wheeler that plied the Illinois river a half-century ago.

The Julia Belle Swain, captained by Dennis Trone of Rushville, will leave here Thursday for Peoria where the boat will be "christened" in special ceremonies.

The craft, 146 feet in length and 45 feet high to the tip of her "stack", will carry 400 passengers and has three decks.

It was built in Dubuque, Ia., and is much like the old paddle wheel boats in appearance. She will cruise at 12 miles an hour.

The boat has a 22 wheel collapse and its melodies furnished additional nostalgic recollections among those who still remember Beardstown as a busy river port for passenger, freight and excursion boats, as well as the popular old time show boats.

CORN CRIB BURNS NEAR VIRGINIA

VIRGINIA — Fire northwest of here reduced a corn crib to a total loss early Tuesday morning. A passing motorist noticed flames and called the Virginia fire department according to a report by Chief George Davis. The men responded to the Kenneth Peterson farm, four miles from Virginia, but were unable to save the structure or contents. The Roy French family lives on the farm. The alarm was called to the local fire station at 12:30 a.m.

Average Business Office Real Center Of Drama

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — You can win an Oscar in Hollywood or a Tony on Broadway, but there is no nationally recognized award for acting in an American business office.

This is a shame because if there is any real center of drama in U.S. life it is the average office, full of starchy green desks and billowy-feeling people, each desperately playing the role of his choice to the hilt.

For example, they all display the talent of a Barrymore even in getting on stage. If you just pause and see how some of the people in your own office come to work each morning, you are likely to find familiar some of the following characters in the cast:

"How do you do you do you do you do?" sing out "Mike and like the office drunks, as they enter arm in arm. They have had a pick-me-up already at a bar down the street. Because of the theory that there's safety in numbers, they do their drinking together. By 10 a.m., each will have stolen $5 from the petty cash drawer, and they'll be back at the bar, stool to stool, having a drink during coffee break.

The femme fatale—The boss' secretary, an antique adventure in fading mascara, writes her name ruefully in the dust on her desk. As she tags off her gray-white gloves she notes there's a hole in another finger, sits down primly and says fatalistically, "Oh, well, one hell at a time."

Busted Ben—Jauntily whistling alternate strains of "Dixie" and "Tea for Two," the office gambler posts himself just inside the door at 8:57 a.m. and tries to borrow money from all who enter. If he's lucky, he'll be phoning in the first bet of the day to his bookie by 9:12.

The Office Wolf—His hair has turned to silver and his claws to rest, but he still tries to make points with every new girl who joins the firm. He likes to reminisce about how much fun it was to rustle a bustle in the old days.

The Sage—He was here before the building was finished, standing by the water cooler and whispering to every corner, "Whatever you're doing, I wouldn't do it if I were you. It'll only get you in trouble."

There is some truth to his philosophy. He has never missed a day's work or done a day's duty, but for 41 years the treasurer has always spelled his name right on the paycheck.

The gossip—"Have you heard that?" she mutters at 9:01 a.m. Heard what? It doesn't matter really. But at 5:29 p.m. half the office staff has spent all the work day trying to find out whether what she said was fact, hearsay, or conjectural rumor.

The Great Man Himself—The boss almost breaks the hinges off the door as he storms in, fresh from losing the 1,048th argument in a row with his wife. "Heads will fall," he threatens, looking around darkly. Then he strides into his sanctum, closes the door and eases into his reclining chair for his first nap of the day.

It's odd why so many people are still willing to pay $10 or more to go to the theater in the evening when they can see the finest acting on earth merely by going to work in the morning.

By Oswald & James Jacoby
The suit-preference signal is one of the best conventions in defensive play when used properly. It becomes one of the worst when abused.

Basically it consists playing a high card to ask partner to lead a high-ranking suit or a low card to ask partner to lead a low-ranking suit. It should only be used when it is evident that the play of the high or the low card will not have some normal meaning.

Today's hand shows a suit-preference signal that should be unmistakable.

West opens his singleton club against South's reasonable four-heart contract. Of course, a three no-trump contract by North would be better, but four hearts is reasonable.

It isn't hard for East to see that the lead was a singleton. It is even easier for East to see that if his partner can get in with a heart and lead a spade that the four-heart contract will collapse. All he has to do is to play his jack of clubs and if West can't read that as a suit-preference request for a spade lead, it is just too bad.

There isn't anything South can do about the situation. He will probably play ace and another heart in the hope that West doesn't hold three hearts, but West does hold three hearts. He will take his king, lead a spade and the defense will wind up with two spades, the king of trumps and a club ruff.

Even a moose born and raised in a zoo likes to take a long stroll on a nice spring day and so it shouldn't have come as a surprise when this moose in Stockholm, Sweden outfoxed its keepers and headed off on its own. Unfortunately for the subway travelers, the moose took a fancy to the tracks and plodded waddled down them until the police came to carry him back to the zoo.

Betty Canary

Ah, A Male Non-Chauvinist

DEAR BETTY: The first question most people ask me is, "Why is a man interested in the Women's Lib movement?" My answer is, "Because I understand too late how much my mother's talents were wasted and I refuse to be a party to hiding my wife's talents under a bushel. We've got to the place where a good man is known as one who is not a drunk, brings in a pay check and doesn't beat the kids. Now, I ask you, ain't that a helluva way to be a 'good man'?"

DEAR BLUEGRASS: You echo what a British psychiatrist said after a recent tour of this country. Dr. Joshua Bierer remarked that in the United States we have a fatherless society. "The husbands are not husbands," he said. "All the women are crying out for a strong man and he's just not there." Dr. Bierer said he had been afraid women attending the seminars at which he spoke might shoot him for his remarks but instead they agreed, even hugged and kissed him after the lectures. He said, "In this competitive society the men are so tired when they come home they are only too happy to let the wives take over the responsibility for home and children. Their men like to be babies of their wives!"

DEAR BETTY: Not too many years ago I was like the grandmother who wrote that all she saw in the future was loneliness and futility in life. I began looking outward instead of inward and the rewards have been amazing. Where before I arose each morning with a sigh of regret that another day was here for me to get through, I now say a thankful prayer that God has given me energy for another busy day. It's a long story but what I've learned to do is give of myself to others. I'm surrounded by friends.

SUNNY SEVENTY
DEAR SUNNY: You turned a gloomy day into a bright one for me. Yes, there is a fatal attractiveness to a person who treats others as 100 percent human and worthy of regard. People cluster around such a one to feel that warmth and in return give sustenance to your spirit.

EPA Chief Warns Auto Industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — William D. Ruckelshaus, administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency, warned the auto industry Thursday it must exhaust every effort to reduce significantly the emission of air pollutants by 1978.

A Ford Motor Co. official said the deadline may be impossible to meet.

"We do not at this time know whether we will be successful in meeting 1978 emission requirements," said H. L. Misch, a Ford vice president in charge of engineering.

Misch's statement came at the opening of a two-day hearing into the auto industry's ability to comply with the 1978 clear air act. It requires auto makers to achieve by 1978 a 30 per cent reduction in the emission of carbon monoxide, hydrocarbons and nitrogen oxides.

"We cannot and will not accept anything less than a wide open research and development effort to meet the act's requirements," Ruckelshaus said.

The law permits EPA to extend the deadline for one year if the industry can not meet the standards.

Ruckelshaus said "if any member of the industry could meet the act's deadline for compliance, all applications for a suspension will be denied."

Both Misch and Herbert Heitland, a director of Volkswagen, said they were making every effort to devise the technology to reduce the level of air pollutants.

Misch dismissed the possibilities of alternative power sources such as steam or electric engines. He said the time necessary to mass produce an engine means that research efforts must be directed to the internal combustion engine because it will be the only one that could be manufactured in sufficient quantity.

Misch said the 1978 goal will require lead free gasoline, and he called on EPA to issue regulations to insure general availability of lead free fuel nationwide for 1978 models.

Misch urged EPA to eliminate its interim restrictions that necessitate year by year changes in emission control systems so that research efforts can concentrate exclusively on meeting the 1978 standards.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Timid Housewife Can Help Herself

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am a housewife in my 40s with a wonderful husband and three fine children. I should be a very happy person since I seem to have everything, but the truth is I am miserable. As a young girl I was totally rejected by my father and had a very inferior mother. I was a very timid person and extremely unloved by almost anyone that would happen to me. Now, after all these years, I am still the same way. I am afraid to try new things, afraid of meeting new people, afraid to travel, etc. The most embarrassing thing is that I get very flushed in my face and even my nose gets red and stays that way for quite awhile. It's getting so I don't even want to do anything or go anywhere any more. I feel so humiliated.

Please don't advise psychiatric help; I just couldn't afford it. Is there anything at all that I might do to overcome this? The thing that hurts most is that it affects the rest of my family. What can I do?

Dear Reader—The most beneficial thing you could do would be to see a psychiatrist. If you can't afford that, the next best thing I can offer is to suggest that you make some strong efforts to help yourself. One way, interesting enough, might be to discuss your problem with your minister. If you can gain the courage to bring your problem out in the open and discuss your feelings more openly with other people, your problem may disappear.

You may be surprised to know that almost everyone has some degree of the same problem you express. Even the most successful people harbor deep insecurity or inferiority feelings. If you recognize that the people you have contact with each day also have the same problem you do to some degree, you might say, "better in their own private hell," perhaps you can help yourself by helping them.

Try to make the OTHER person feel more secure and less timid. In the process, you may lose your own timidity. Many things in life require practice. This includes even the emotional aspect of living.

The more you practice developing relationships with other people and the more you try to help other people with their problems, the more you will help yourself.

You seem to have quite a bit of insight to your own problem; and if you can surmount the communications barrier that most people have concerning their inner self and practice human relations a bit, you may well overcome your own difficulty. Good luck!

Brighten Shoes With Leather Balm

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—I am answering your letter about shoes. I worked in a department store and learned quite a bit about such shoes. Unfortunately, these shoes often scuff easily but polishing with a good leather balm before the shoes are worn and continued use of the balm should help. A paste wax as close to the color of the shoes as possible should take care of the present scuffs. Some cases may even require a complete redyeing — LARRY.

DEAR POLLY—Both my young son and I have some of the wet-looking boots and his looked a fright after he wore them to school a day or two. I tried using petroleum jelly on a facial tissue and soon the scuffs and marks were gone. They now have such a nice shine. Mine take less upkeep. This is the same treatment I have always given patent leather shoes but I do not know how to prevent scuffs. —MRS. W. S.

DEAR POLLY—Recently my son had an accident when driving the car and he called to ask me to report the accident and then come to the scene which I did. I asked if he had gotten the needed information from the driver of the other car. He had not because there was no paper, pen or pencil in the car and neither he nor his passenger had any on them. Someone in the other car could only come up with an eyebrow pencil to write with and I, who usually carry two or three pens in my purse, had just changed purses and did not have one. To prevent a recurrence of this, I immediately put a pad of paper and three pencils in each of our cars. Most of us never expect such emergencies so are not prepared, but WE will be from

Crimsons Second In Lincoln Meet

Jacksonville High school was second in the variety, fresh-soph and combined totals with a record-shattering performance Friday night in the eighth team Lincoln relay.

Springfield Southeast won both the variety and fresh-soph titles, with 73 and 59 points, respectively, followed by JHS with 52 variety points and 30 fresh-soph points.

Other variety totals were Decatur 40, Bloomington 25, Springfield 21, Lincoln 20, Griffin 19 and Lanphier 12. Decatur had 30, Lanphier 33, Lincoln 25, Springfield 24, Bloomington 14 and Griffin 0 in the fresh-soph standings.

The Crimsons broke three school and four meet records in a standout performance.

The variety mile relay team of Ike Haley, Rodney Dobson, Gary Russell and Bob Ware turned a blazing 3:29.1 time, snapping the previous best of 3:29.5 set earlier this year.

The variety shuttle high hurdle unit of Stan Daugherty, George and the Haley and Ron Fairfield turned in a 3:23 winning time for a meet mark. Fairfield scored 5:10% to win the fresh-soph high jump, a meet record.

The variety two-mile team of Russell, Ware, Ed Flynn and Dobson won in 12:16 for a meet and school standard. The variety low hurdle relay team of George and the Haley, Fairfield and Daugherty came in third in 46.9, also a school record.

John Buren won the fresh-soph pole vault at 11'6", another meet best.

George Haley was fourth and Daugherty fifth in the long jump, won by Southeast's Jim Potter at 25'. Crimsons Phil Birdell came in third in the shot put at 46'8", with Herb McMahon of Southeast winning at 52'1".

The JHS fresh-soph relay team of Hull, Scott, Halligan and Rimbey came in fifth, with Rimbey second in the fresh-soph long jump. Lon Overton came in third in the variety high jump, won by Stuart Nelson of Southeast at 6'4". Cliff White was fifth in the fresh-soph high jump.

Ike Haley, Gardner, Overton and White were third in the F-S high hurdle relays, and John Jameson finished fourth in the F-S shot put. Jameson was also third in the big man 100.

Russell, Frye, Rimbey and Brown were second in the sprint medley relay for the fresh-soph and Billy, Flynn, Scott and Slater finished fifth in the distance medley.

The squad of Russell, Halligan, Brown and Rimbey was third in the F-S 800 relay, with Russell, Brown, Halligan and Rimbey third in the fresh-soph low hurdle relay.

JHS was fifth in the variety 800 relay with Ware, Haley, Overton and Ronald Criss carrying the baton. Mark Wright was fifth in the variety pole vault and Aaron Haley fourth in the F-S vault.

Mark Near 180 Level At Indy

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — "I was trying very hard," said Mark Donohue, after bringing an 180-mile-an-hour lap almost in sight at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, a track built in 1916 for a speed of 75 m.p.h. He had to be.

Donohue was caught on the elec timer at 177.501 m.p.h. Thursday in his new Mark 16 McLaren-Ford.

Only speeds recorded in qualifications for the 500-mile race May 26 will be official so Joe Leonard's 1988 qualifying mark of 171.553, with a turbine engine, still stands. It almost certainly is due for retirement May 15, first day of the trials.

Leonard was the first driver to tour the Speedway under 190. The record was only 130.787, set by Jimmy Snyder in 1959, when the Speedway was locked up for World War II. E. R. didn't reach 140 until the late Jack McGrath did 141.357 in 1944.

Parnelli Jones broke the 150 barrier in 1962 with a qualifying run at 150.726. The next two 10-mile laps were made by A. J. Foyt Jr. at 161.58 in 1966 and by Leonard and his 170-plus.

Donohue's commitment to race a Javelin in the Trans-American Saturday at Lime Rock, Conn., helped prod him to early all-out practice runs at the Speedway, he said.

He added that he expected some of the late arrivals such as Foyt to challenge his speed in a few days.

Of 77 cars entered, 37 are Offys, 36 are Fords and the rest have an assortment of power plants including a turbocharged Chevrolet, a turbocharged Rambler and a small Allison.

Rain Wipes Out Baseball Games

Rain and wet grounds wiped out a pair of weekend high school baseball games involving South High school. The South Jacksonville High game slated for Friday was called off and will not be rescheduled.

The Jacksonville Green Sox game set for Saturday in the JHS District was also called off and rescheduled for Monday at the Jacksonville College district with Thursday's schedule rescheduled at this time.

NEW YORK (AP) — Tom Seaver outpitched Bob Gibson for the second time in two weeks Friday night and Jerry Grote doubled home the tie-breaking run in the eighth inning as the New York Mets defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 3-1.

The Mets, who shelled the St. Louis ace to his earliest knock-out in four years on April 26, trailed 1-0 until the seventh. Bud Harrelson led off with a triple and one out later Gibson, 3-2, wild pitched him home.

Kranopel opened the eighth with a double and, after Bob Aspromonte struck out, Grote lined a hit to center and it twisted past Mazyk Allow for another two-bagger. Grote scored when Seaver's two-out roller went through second baseman Ted Simmons for an error.

Seaver, 3-1, was nipped for a run in the first when Lou Brock hit the game's first pitch for a single, stole second, took third on Ted Simmons' infield hit and scored on Joe Torre's sacrifice fly.

Fairly's Homer Spills Cubs, 3-1

MONTREAL (AP) — Ron Fairly crashed a leadoff homer in the seventh inning, laying a two-run rally, and drove in an insurance run with an eighth inning single as the Montreal Expos defeated the Chicago Cubs 3-1 Friday night.

Chicago's Bill Hands took a three-hitter and a 1-0 lead into the seventh, but Fairly tied the game with his first homer of the season, a drive over the right field fence.

Swoboda then doubled to left, advanced to third on John Bateman's sacrifice bunt and scored the go-ahead run on Leiby's hit to center.

Carl Morton, who gave up seven hits, pitched out of a jam in the eighth to gain his third victory in seven decisions.

Joe Peptone tagged the Montreal right-hander for a fourth inning homer, his third of the season.

CARROLLTON — Host Carrollton emerged a one-point victory over Winchester in a tight triangular track meet Friday afternoon. Carrollton, unbeaten this season, totaled 70% to 60% by Winchester and 27 by Calhoun.

Carrollton, which won all three relays, held a two-point lead with the results of the discus still out. The Hawks captured second and fourth in the event to stage off Winchester.

Calhoun's Joe Clendenny captured three events to rate as the top point-getting individual, sweeping the 100, 200 and high jump. Winchester's Bob Bahlig captured the two-mile and mile run for the Wildcats.

Yanks Stagger To 4-3 Victory Over White Sox
CHICAGO (AP) — The New York Yankees rocked Tommy John for three runs in the first inning Friday night and staggered to a 4-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Yankees starter Frits Peterson, 3-3, had a 4-1 lead going into the seventh but the Sox erupted for two runs. Peterson fanned Tom Egan to start the seventh but yielded a single to Luis Alvarado and a pinch double to Ed Stoud.

Lindy McDaniel yielded a two-run double to pinch hitter Lee Maye and a bloop single to Walt Williams before retiring Carlos May and Bill Melton to end the uprising.

Horace Clarke opened the game with a single but was cut trying to stretch it. Bobby Murcer followed with a single and scored on a triple by Roy White.

Danny Cater was safe on a fielder's choice and Felipe Alou forced Cater as White scored. Thurmon Munson drew a walk and Ron Hansen greeted reliever or Vicente Romo with a run-scoring single.

Seek Approval

Pro Cage Leagues Reach Merger Plan

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Basketball Association and the rival American Basketball Association agreed Friday to seek congressional approval for a merger.

Commissioner Walter Kennedy of the NBA made the announcement following almost two days of meetings by the owners of each league with their merger committees in separate midtown hotels.

Kennedy said the vote by the NBA was the required 15 to 17 owners.

The ABA owners had agreed earlier on the merger plan. Kennedy said the agreement included to create a league that included the 17 present NBA teams and the current 11 ABA clubs in their present location.

"Realistically, I would think it would be a year or more before we can get congressional approval, hopefully before the start of the 1973-74 season," Kennedy said.

Kennedy said there would be no common draft next spring, which once again opens the way to a bidding war over graduating college players.

Kennedy also did not foresee a championship game between the leagues until at least the end of the 1973-74 season.

"The two principle items that caused most of the discussion were dismissal of the antitrust suit, which was agreed to by the ABA, and the resolution of the problem of multiple signings," Kennedy said.

"There was no total resolution of the multiple signings and they will remain status quo where litigation prevails."

The ABA had filed an antitrust suit against the NBA several years ago and it was still pending going into the merger talks.

Kennedy said the suit was a major obstacle in the collapse of an earlier agreement to merge last June.

Among those players involved in multiple signings are Rick Barry, now with the New York Nets; Elmore Beasley, now with the Utah Stars; Joe Caldwell, now with the Carolina Cougars; all of the ABA; Billy Cunningham of the Philadelphia 76ers; and Dave Bing of the Detroit Pistons.

"We agreed to immediately institute action to bring the matter merger to the appropriate committees in Congress," Kennedy said.

He also said the agreement allows teams in both leagues to play interleague preseason exhibition games if they desire.

The agreement would put an end to the bitter and expensive war between the leagues. Speculation that the end of the struggle between the 4-year-old ABA and the 49-year-old NBA was "near" surfaced when it was revealed that the merger committee had been negotiating for several weeks.

The settlement actually was an agreement on a plan that will be presented to Congress for approval required to grant basketball immunity from antitrust laws. That was made necessary when a U.S. District Court judge in New York issued an injunction last May barring a merger until disposition of an anti-trust suit filed against the leagues by the NBA Players Association. Such disposition revolved around ruling by Congress on the matter.

If Congress does approve the merger plan, it would bring to an end the most costly sports war in history. Not even the National and American football leagues, before their merger in 1966, spent so much money or raided each other's ranks so ruthlessly for players as did the two basketball leagues.

Because of the fierce competition for players, such graduating college students as Jim McDaniel of Western Kentucky, Artis Gilmore of Jacksonville, Pete Maravich of Louisiana State, Bob Lanier of Michigan State and Lew Alcindor of UCLA were able to command contracts that reportedly ranged from $1.4 million to $3 million. And they were only a few among big money signers.

Both leagues negotiated under the table with players before their college eligibility had expired and the ABA went so far this season to draft and sign sophomores and juniors.

These two pro football greats, who have faced each other across the line in pro grid action, now will match wits on the sidelines starting at 3 p.m. in Memorial Stadium.

"This is just great," Blackman said when both Butkus and Nitschke confirmed that they would handle the coaching duties. "We will have two of the all-time great middle linebackers and two of the greatest names in pro football on the sidelines."

Tickets for the Orange-Blue game will be on sale starting Monday at 100 Assembly Hall and at the gate the day of the game. Prices are $1 for all students and $2 for adults. Ticket Manager George Lick urged fans to buy their tickets during the week to avoid lines the day of the game.

Nitschke, who played for the Illini and Associate Athletic Director Ray Elliot from '57-'67 and is currently a member of the Green Bay Packers, will coach the Orange team.

While a member of the Packers, Nitschke has played for two world championship teams and six NFL championship clubs.

Head coaching duties for the Blue will go to Butkus, a consensus All-American in '59 and '60 for the Illini and now middle linebacker of the Chicago Bears.

Both Butkus and Nitschke will fly to Champaign Saturday morning (May 15) and participate in "Meet Bob Blackman Day," including signing autographs for fans after the game.

"These are the two outstanding linebackers of the past decade in pro football and two all-time Illini greats," Blackman noted. "They will make all the major decisions in the game and will, of course, make substitutions in coordination with our regular staff members."

Blackman will be an interested spectator in the press box. Helping Butkus with the Blue will be a former teammate with the Chicago Bears — J. C. Carlisle. Other Blue staff members are Phil Krueger, John Nelson, Ellis Reinberger and Jack Robinson.

Nitschke's staff will consist of Gary Golden, Walt Anderson, John Jackson and Carl Meyer.

Players for the respective Orange and Blue teams will be chosen in a draft by the Illini assistants Monday, 2 p.m., at the Auditorium at the south end of the Quadrant on campus. All interested students and the general public are invited to attend.

2 Former Illini Greats To Coach In Orange-Blue

CHAMPAIGN — Ray Nitschke and Dick Butkus, two former University of Illinois football greats and currently perennial all-pro linebackers in the National Football League, will be "Head" Coaches at the University of Illinois' final spring game May 15 in Memorial Stadium. Coach Bob Blackman announced today.

These two pro football greats, who have faced each other across the line in pro grid action, now will match wits on the sidelines starting at 3 p.m. in Memorial Stadium.

FREP STARS TO ISU
BLOOMINGTON — Three name basketball players from as many states, including Illinois all-state guard Rick Meeks of Centralia, have signed letters of intent to enroll at Illinois State University.

The other two are guard Rick Meeks of Michigan City, Ind., and center Calvin Harper of Detroit, Mich.

Harper was the regular center for ISU coach Will Robinson a year ago when Robinson coached Detroit's Pershing High School to the Michigan prep championship.

Whitlow was the leading scorer on Michigan City's championship in the Indiana state tournament. The Red Devils were stopped by the undefeated state champion East Chicago Washington.

IC Sets School High In Net Wins

CARROLLTON — Illinois College set a recent school high in net wins with a 4-2 decision over Eastern College Friday afternoon.

The victory boosted the Blue boys to 1-2 this season, the most wins by IC since at least 1961.

Dave Leonard, Pete Schmidt, Frank Bridgewater and Mark Strawn gave the winners a 4-2 lead after singles play. Leonard and John Bellatti and Schmidt — Bridgewater added doubles points to the Blueboy total.

Frazier 'Sentenced' To Life

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Heavyweight champion Joe Frazier was sentenced to a life term in prison Friday for the murder of a woman.

Frazier, 33, was found guilty of the murder of a woman in a hotel room in Philadelphia.

Arthur Specter, district attorney of the nation's fourth largest city, personally handled the prosecution.

The charge, which dated back to March 8 to a fight in the championship, also received a certificate of conviction from Philadelphia City Council, and a plea from a municipal court.

Unsmiling through most of it, Frazier laughed heartily when his manager, Jack Durburn, who had been identified as Hank Durburn by defense counsel Marvin Halpert, as a defense witness testified, "there's not much I can say about Joe except he's guilty."

Judge Robert Glancey, presiding over the panel of four judges, praised Frazier and commended him for fighting "a fight that's going to go down as one of the greatest fights of the century."

He called municipal court a court of the people, and told Frazier "you are an outstanding man of the people."

He asked the other judges for comment. Judge Paul Darrighe, who had been in the courtroom since the beginning, then Glancey, smiling broadly, said of Darrighe, "He lost money on Ali." Darrighe smiled.

Coody Takes 2-Shot Lead In Nelson

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Charles Coody, displaying the deft putting touch that won him the Masters, fired a sparkling 65 Friday and moved into the second-round lead in the $125,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic.

The tall, handsome Coody's 36-hole total of 135, five under par on the 7,053-yard, par 70 Frisco Trail Golf Club course, gave him a two-stroke lead going into Saturday's third round.

Paquito Rivas, veteran Chi Chi Rodriguez had 65 and headed a group of five tied at 137.

Others at that figure were veteran Eddie Johnson, Bob Stone, Ed Snod and first-round leader Jerry McGee.

Johnson, a nonwinner for more than 16 years, had a 67. McGee bogeyed three consecutive holes down the stretch for a 71 while Stone and Snod matched 68.

Lee Trevino had a 70 and was alone at 138.

Arnold Palmer and defending champ Jack Nicklaus, the pre-tournament favorites for the $25,000 first prize, couldn't really get going but remained in contention.

Each was one over par for the day at 71. Nicklaus had a 140 total and Palmer 141.

"Back in that same old rut," Palmer snorted after experiencing a return of some putting woes that have plagued him for a couple of years.

The 32-year-old Coody, probably the hottest player on the tour right at the moment, used only 28 strokes on the fast, beautifully conditioned greens.

He sank five birdie putts in the 13-15 foot range and made a monster 40-footer for a bird on the sixth. He had two bogeys, once from a trap and again when he punched it into a lake on the 10th hole.

"I'm really not driving it that well," the Abilene, Tex. native said, "but I'm putting real, real well."

Badgers Sweep Loop Twinbill

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin beat Minnesota 4-1 behind Lon Galli's five-hitter Friday in Big Ten baseball and then beat the Gophers again 2-0 on Jim Enlow's seven-hit shut-out.

Minnesota's only run of the day came on an error by Badger shortstop Ed Zyskowski in the second inning of the opener. Galli drove in two runs with a single to assure his victory.

Wisconsin got three of its four hits in the nightcap in the fourth inning, and combined with two walks to score all its runs.

The Badgers evened their Big Ten record at 4-4, while the Gophers fell to a 6-4 mark.

weakly as the spectators roared.

Frazier was also accused of "assault on the youth of Philadelphia using sexuality and respect."

Halpert, the defense lawyer, said he thought the district attorney should have brought some of the victims in as proof, "so they can stand up and be counted instead of lying down and being counted up." He said if they were brought in, "We would have an excellent case of self defense."

Then Halpert said Frazier was going to do something he's never done before, "throw the towel in and plead guilty."

Frazier thanked those present for the honors and said, "I am guilty," then added, "I don't want to ever face the court."

Durham, denying rumors that Frazier was thinking of quitting, said he had an offer of $1.5 million "to fight anyone I want to fight."

Throwing Error Boosts Tigers To 3-1 Decision

DETROIT (AP) — Two runs scored on pitcher Mike Hedlund's four-base throwing error in the seventh inning and Dick McAuliffe followed with a home run, carrying the Detroit Tigers to a 3-1 victory over the Kansas City Royals Friday night.

Left-hander Mickey Lolich scattered eight hits and struck out 13 on the way to his fifth victory against two losses.

The Royals led 1-0 when Ed Brinkman opened the bottom of the seventh with a double. Lolich, attempting to sacrifice, bunted to Hedlund, who threw low and wide past third base.

The ball skipped by left fielder Carl Taylor as he charged in to back up the play. By the time he retrieved it near the left field fence, both runners had scored. McAuliffe then slammed his third homer of the season into the upper right field seats.

The Royals gave Hedlund, 3-1, a run in the top of the seventh on singles by Fred Patek and Cookie Rojas and Amos Otis' force play grounder.

Conigliaro Lets Boston Topple Milwaukee, 5-4

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Duane Josephson's sacrifice fly in the eighth inning scored Billy Conigliaro with the tie-breaking run and gave the Boston Red Sox a 5-4 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers Friday night.

Conigliaro, who hit a three-run homer off Brewers' starter Marty Pattin in the first inning, opened the eighth with a double down the left field line off reliever Ken Sanders. He went to third on a ground out scored after Ted Savage made a diving catch of Josephson's liner to left.

Milwaukee filled the bases with one out in the ninth, but reliever Sparky Lylo got pinch-hitter Floyd Wicker to rap into a game-ending double play.

The Red Sox jumped to a 3-0 lead on Conigliaro's two-out homer after a double by Carl Yastrzemski and an error by shortstop Rick Auerbach.

The Brewers chipped away and finally went ahead 4-3 in the sixth on catcher Josephson's throwing error that allowed Ellis Rodriguez to score from third on a missed squeeze bunt.

Boston tied the game in the seventh on a single by Doug Griffin and a double by Joe Louboud.

Monzon Tackles Nino Benvenuti

MONTE CARLO (AP) — Carlos Monzon of Argentina, who has built an impressive record in South America as a fighter who has never been knocked down, makes the first defense of his world middleweight championship Saturday night against aging and slowing Nino Benvenuti of Italy.

The fight in the outdoor Louis II football stadium is expected to draw a capacity crowd of 3,000.

The bout will be nationally televised in the United States by ABC starting about 8:15 p.m. EDT.

CHICAGO (NEA) — There will be no new Gale Sayers in the pro football future, just as there will never again be the Gale Sayers of old. So said Gale Sayers.

Football has changed so enormously since he came up with the Chicago Bears in 1955 that said Sayers, "a breakaway run nowadays is a 30-yard gain."

He emphasized that in the National Football Conference last season only seven backs broke away for gains of 50 yards or more from scrimmage.

Sayers, once the finest open-field runner in the game, was not one of them. He played the first two games last season and gained a total of 52 yards in 23 carries. Then he was finished and underwent surgery for strained ligaments in his left knee in October. In March, his left knee was again operated on. The cast was removed for two weeks in April but has since been put back on because the tendons were overtaken in his exercise program.

He sits now with moderate Afro hair style, natty gray suit, plaster-stiff left leg and bright good humor in the computerized, cool-modern LaSalle Street office of Paine, Webber, Jackson and Curtis, where he has been a stock broker for four years.

"If the knee is right, I'm going to be right," said Sayers, about his football future. He added decisively that flanker is out of the question. "I'll have the same speed, but forget about those breakaways. That's 'used to be.' Not just for me, but for everyone."

Two years ago, Sayers tore ligaments in his right knee and, to the great surprise of many, came back in 1969 to gain over 1,000 yards and lead the league in rushing.

"People said I was through even then because I didn't do what I used to. But someone like O. J. Simpson is healthy and his biggest gain from scrimmage is 50 yards. Once."

Sayers lists these reasons for the gradual disappearance of the breakaway runner:

"So many defenses to stop him. 'You can't run and sweep any more,' he said. 'There always seems to be three guys there to meet you.'"

"The size and speed of defenders. 'When I first came up, there was one guy who was big and fast. Roger Brown, who weighed 300 pounds. Now, there's Freddie Carr and Bobby Bell and Aaron Brown — these guys and more run with the best of 'em. And those defensive backs! Look at Lem Barney, how are you going to break away from him?'"

"Artificial turf. 'Sure, it's better to run on than grassy fields because it's harder. It makes the back faster, too. It makes the lineman faster, too. And it hurts more when you fall. Subconsciously the back thinks about falling and getting hurt more than he used to. One fella on the Bears suffered a ruptured kidney and another separated his shoulder from falling on artificial turf. If you take a vote of the players, I'll bet 85 per cent say go back to the real grass.'"

"The game has become rougher because of the bigger linemen. 'The smaller, speedier backs like me really can't take all that pounding. I predict that fast superior backs will soon start retiring after five years. They'll be sure to get a good education and look for the five years to be up to get that pension.'"

"And there will be less speedy superstar backs. I think the game will return to the big backs, the Jimmy Taylors and Jimmy Browns, the kind that dominated the league before me and the Leroy Kellys came in. In three years I'll bet that the back who gains 1,000 yards a season will be a thing of the past."

Sayers, 27, says he still enjoys football and hopes "to play three more years. He continues to daydream about what was, and what still might be.

"I still envision myself letting people slide by me, and being back on top like I was," he said. "Most of all, I picture myself in the pregame warmup, and guys from the other team coming by and saying, 'Saw the films from last week and you had a helluva game. You sure left us and our jack on the field. That's my greatest thrill hearing those guys say things like that.'"

CHICAGO (AP) — Northwestern University's bid to rent Dwyer Stadium to the Chicago Bears is still alive, the Daily News reported Friday.

The News said Dr. J. Roscoe Miller, Northwestern's chancellor, will continue the university's appeal at a May 20 meeting of conference presidents (known as the Council of Ten) and faculty representatives.

Northwestern has made two bids to have the Bears play their home games at Dwyer Stadium and both have been rejected by the conference.

George Halas Jr., president of the Bears, said he did not know of Northwestern's latest effort and had not been consulted on the matter.

The Bears, who have played at Wrigley Field since coming to Chicago from Decatur, Ill., in 1921, currently are working on playing either in Soldier Field or Comiskey Park.

Kentucky Posts Slim 116-110 Win

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky held off a late Utah rally Friday night to post a 116-110 victory and pull to 2-1 in their best-of-7 American Basketball Association championship series.

The fourth game is scheduled for 3 p.m. EDT Saturday in Louisville and will be televised nationally by CBS.

The outcome was in doubt until Kentucky's Mike Pratt, playing in a reserve role, sank a pair of free throws for the game's final points.

Leading 85-81 after three periods, the Colonels followed the shooting of Darel Carrier and Louie Dampier to a 95-84 margin early in the final period.

The Colonels held a 104-93 lead with six minutes remaining, but Utah pulled within 114-110 on a jumper by Red Robbins with one minute remaining. Utah blew a chance to pull closer when Willie Wise missed a three point field goal

Business — Market Wrapup

NEW YORK (AP) — Suppose you ran your checking account as Uncle Sam runs his. You are rich and powerful but you let the bills pile up. Oh, you pay them all, but slowly, and you permit the total to grow over the years.

Your creditors demand you pay but you insist that your promise is as good as the payment—only slower.

They wonder, though, how long your deficit situation can continue. Credit should be temporary.

They know you have plenty of assets that they could demand in place of cash. They know you have a pile of gold, though a diminished one, and they try with the notion of demanding it.

But you tell them that they'll never get their hands on it. Rather ridiculously, none of you wishes to face the reality that there isn't enough gold there anyway.

You can enforce your wishes because your smaller neighbors need your business. So they don't press too hard for that gold. They don't like what is going on, but certainly don't want to lose your business, which would hurt theirs also.

What do they do? They can suggest that you increase the size of your checks, in effect, devalue money with which you pay.

This would mean that you'd have to shell out more money for the same bills.

But you are big and powerful and you insist this just won't be done. Your money is good, you maintain. You always pay your bills, if slowly. In fact, you pay some of your neighbors' bills.

Nobody is more generous than you when it comes to aiding the less fortunate, either with alms or armaments, in your own neighborhood or in the next town.

And you are confident that eventually you will have more money coming into the checking account than leaves it. You intend to do nothing other than to work toward that eventual balance.

They have another alternative. They can lower the size of the checks they send you. That is, they could revalue their checks upward. They could say that their $1 check really was worth $1.05, take it or leave it.

This would serve over a period of time to reduce the disparity in accounts and would devalue your checks, even though they took the action.

The big problem with this sort of thing is that it may bring other troubles, some only dimly understood.

It would raise to you the price of their goods. It would lessen your ability to buy and their ability to sell to you.

And worse: Distrusted as your checks might be, they are the most widely distributed, because you are the biggest, most powerful man in town. Your checks are commonly endorsed and used and resorted throughout your area. They circulate like originals.

This is one of the things that makes your creditors wary. Your checks once were as good as gold. But you have told them this isn't the case anymore.

The situation is a dilemma. Your creditors say it must end but they know the consequences might be only to make real the fear.

Do-It-Yourself Wills Can Prove Disastrous

By CARLTON SMITH
Many bits of American folklore are perfectly harmless, and if it makes you feel better to believe them, so be it. But there's one that can do enormous harm—it has caused financial disaster to an untold number of families—so let's try once more to stamp out the one about the holographic will.

"Holographic" is a 50-cent word that a Greek would immediately recognize as meaning simply "all-written." It's applied, specifically, in legal use, to a document that is entirely written in the hand of the person who signs it.

It is widely believed in this country that such a will—handwritten in its entirety by the person making and signing it—is as good as anything a consortium of Philadelphia lawyers could draw up.

A lot of thrifty husbands have put their faith in the folklore that a holographic will, saying little more than "I leave everything to my wife," has the combined virtues of complete legal validity and a simplicity that leaves no room for nagging questions or challenges.

Why it's such a dangerous belief is well-covered in "Your Legal Retirement Guide," an admirable booklet published by the American Association of Retired Persons. First of all, "use of the major problems of holographic wills is that only about half of the 50 states recognize them."

In the half that doesn't, any will—holographic or not—must conform to very precise and particular requirements about, for example, the form and ritual of the witnessing. The do-it-yourself will gets thrown out of court in ten minutes.

But suppose you go to a little trouble and determine that your state is one that does make exceptions to the myriad legal niceties, and will recognize a simple holographic will. Still no good. There are too many pitfalls for the do-it-yourselfer.

"Such seemingly simple discrepancies as failure to include the date or part of the date, or the use of a date stamp, will virtually always make a holographic will invalid," the AARP guide warns. There are many things to trip you up. Failure to use a plain piece of paper, for example. Writing your will on a piece of printed stationery might make it invalid.

And worse: Distrusted as your checks might be, they are the most widely distributed, because you are the biggest, most powerful man in town. Your checks are commonly endorsed and used and resorted throughout your area. They circulate like originals.

This is one of the things that makes your creditors wary. Your checks once were as good as gold. But you have told them this isn't the case anymore.

The situation is a dilemma. Your creditors say it must end but they know the consequences might be only to make real the fear.

GRAIN FUTURES MOVE AHEAD
CHICAGO (AP) — European monetary problems the past week fostered a glimpse of possible expanded agricultural exports and commodity futures on the Chicago Board of Trade showed some general price improvement.

The advance was limited, however, to the soybean complex. Soybeans moved ahead from 1 1/4 to 4 cents a bushel, soybean oil advanced 6 to 20 points but soybean meal was 40 points lower to 130 points higher.

Grain futures prices were generally mixed, although deferred options showed some improvement.

When trade had ended for the week, soybeans were 1 1/4 to 4 cents a bushel higher, May 2.94; wheat was 1/4 to 1/2 lower, May 1.09; corn was 1/2 lower to 1 1/4 higher, May 1.44; and oats were 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, May 67 1/2.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices declined moderately but on a broad front Friday as investor concern about the international currency crisis continued.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, which emerged almost unscathed from the retreat, closed behind 0.42 at 300.97. However, declines led advances on the New York Stock Exchange by nearly 3 to 1.

Losses were posted by tobacco and farm implements. Building materials were higher. Other groups were mixed.

The relatively limited extent of the decline in prices testified to the market's underlying strength, analysts said.

Brokers attributed the slip to investor caution prompted by withdrawal of support for the U.S. dollar by European central banks.

Market indicators showed almost continuous improvement during the last half of the session. At one point the Dow industrial average had been off 6 points, and declines had led gains by 4 to 1.

Some of the recovery was attributed by brokers to reports that a solution to the international monetary problem was being mapped in Bonn, West Germany.

Big Board volume declined to 16.40 million shares from 19.3 million shares Thursday.

The New York Stock Exchange index of some 1,300 common stocks slipped 0.21 at 56.07. Of the 1,685 issues traded, 831 declined and 480 advanced. New yearly highs were reached by 37 issues and lows by 49.

The Associated Press 50-stock average declined 1.1 to 328.4. Industrials were off 4, rails were off 1.3, and utilities were off 4.

Among individual issues, Lockheed was off 1/4 at 134 1/2. The Nixon administration has asked Congress for $250 million in loan guarantees for the aircraft company.

The most-active Big Board block was United Brands, off 1/4 at 20 on a volume of 581,000 shares. A 500,000-share block of the issue, the largest of the session, traded at 19 1/2.

The American Stock Exchange index dipped .07 to 32.24. Of the 1,151 issues traded, 572 declined, and 355 advanced. Volume declined to 4.44 million shares from 5.14 million shares Thursday.

Lockheed Loan OK Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are indications Congress will approve loan guarantees for Lockheed Aircraft Corp. and perhaps other companies as well. But one congressman attached the move to an attempt to bail out the Lockheed chairman and "his merry band of thieves."

Rep. William S. Moorhead, D-Pa., backed out Thursday at the Nixon administration, which asked the guarantee, and Lockheed Chairman Daniel Haughton.

"One has to admire Daniel Haughton who by sheer guts and bailing wire has kept his group of incompetents afloat by intimidating the federal government with threats of corporate suicide and then walking out with the taxpayers' money," Moorhead said.

His statement followed a news conference at which Secretary of Treasury John B. Connally announced the administration next week will send Congress a bill seeking $250 million in guarantees to keep Lockheed from collapsing.

Connally said his preliminary soundings showed the legislation will be approved.

The consensus of several congressmen queried is that a stiff fight over the Nixon administration plan will be followed by approval of some type bill embracing other shaky businesses whose failure could have severe effects on the national economy.

One key Democrat said, however, that if the bill is expanded, "The whole thing will sink. Why not put on the end of it, 'Capitalism is dead.'"

Lockheed, on the ropes from several years of massive cost overruns on defense projects, was pushed to the brink of bankruptcy this year with collapse of Rolls Royce Ltd. The British maker of luxury cars is producing engines for Lockheed's L1011 commercial airliner and the British government reportedly is ready to shore up Rolls only if Lockheed's survival is guaranteed.

Moorhead's criticism of the White House proposal was echoed by others in the House, and in the Senate there were objections from such influential Republicans as GOP whip Robert P. Griffin of Michigan and Jacob K. Javits of New York.

Indicating the magnitude of the battle that may lie ahead was the reported opposition of moderate Republican Richard S. Schweiker of Pennsylvania, whose position could tip the balance other middle-of-the-road senators will take.

Moorhead, noting the Penn Central case, said the railroad is still running and that only corporate and financial people have been involved in the company's collapse. He said bankruptcy for Lockheed would not affect continued operation of the nation's No. 1 defense contractor and would result only in the ousting of "Dan Haughton and his merry band of thieves."

Warn Americans About Travel To Poland
WARSAW (AP) — The U.S. Embassy has cautioned Americans about travel to Poland after a Warsaw court sentenced a Polish-American man to five years in prison for giving classified information to Western agents 13 years ago.

The embassy suggested Thursday night that Polish authorities had allowed Adam Mueller, 45, of Dayton, Ohio, to return to his native land so they could arrest him.

Mueller was arrested last October on a visit to his ailing father. At his trial this week he pleaded guilty to giving secret information on Polish industry and the armed forces to Western agents shortly after he fled to West Berlin.

The five-man court rejected a defense plea for special leniency. Mueller's Polish lawyer said he would appeal the sentence, which was the minimum for espionage. Death is the maximum.

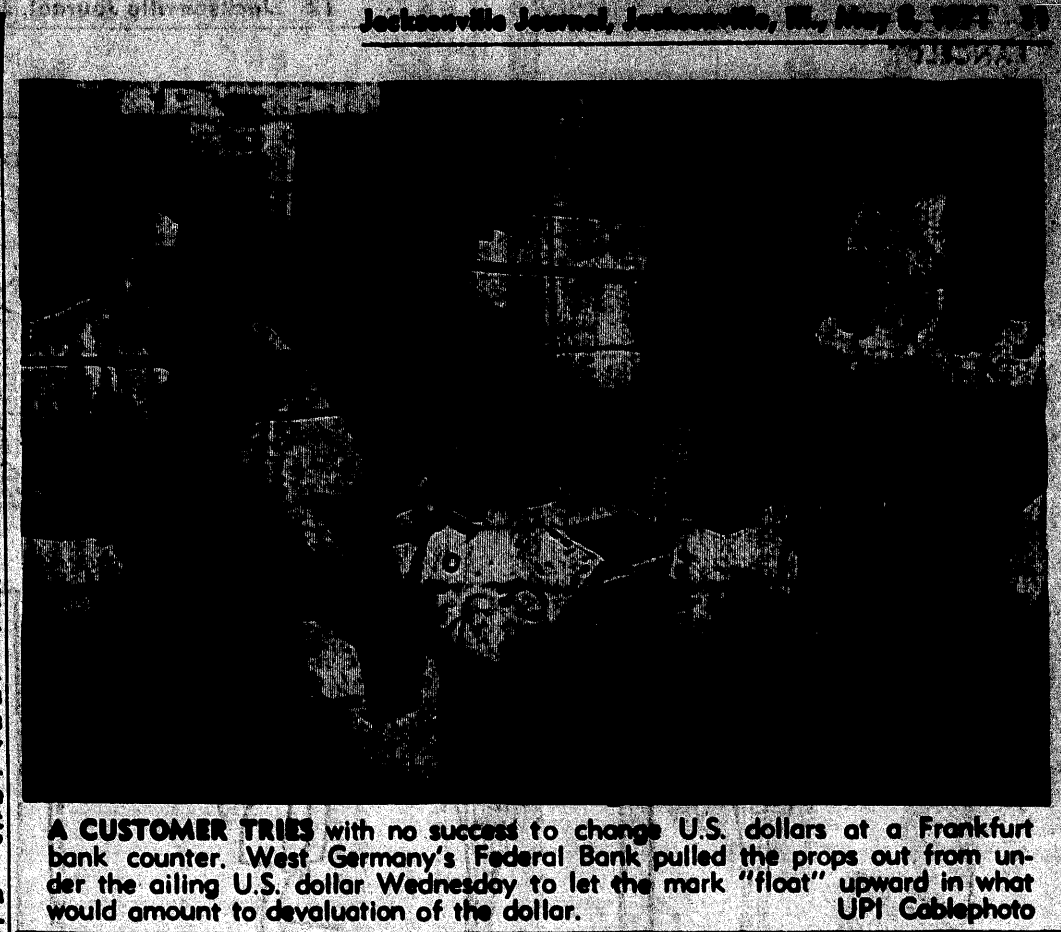

Mueller is now a U.S. citizen and has a wife and four children in Dayton.

The judge said Mueller would remain in custody while his appeal was being considered.

TRUSTING THE UNKNOWNABLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Christian fundamentalism, which rejects critical analysis of the Bible, "pretends to offer men security where there can be no security," says famed German theologian Rudolph Bultmann.

In a new book on his works issued by Doubleday, "The Thought of Rudolf Bultmann," by Andre Malet, the influential, but controversial theologian says faith provides no answer to "the riddle of life."

Rather, faith is sheer "trust in the grace of God which has called man to life and gives life a meaning, even though man does not see the meaning yet."

FHA Eases Rural Housing Loan Program

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Farmers Home Administration has loosened its policies a bit to enable qualified city dwellers to get loans for buying homes in the country if they plan on moving there.

The Agriculture Department agency said the new rule will apply to city residents who plan to move to rural towns of 10,000 population or less.

James V. Smith, FHA administrator, notified agencies of the policy change this week, a spokesman said.

"Many families in cities want to move to the countryside but lack opportunity to obtain home financing," Smith said in a statement announcing the new program.

"Loans may now be made to families who lack adequate housing and will become owner-occupants in a rural community, without regard to the location of their present residence or employment."

Until Congress recently changed the law, the FHA could not make rural housing loans in communities larger than 5,000 population. The limit now is 10,000.

Smith explained that FHA loans are limited to families who are unable to obtain financing from other sources. Generally, the FHA loan programs are for low-to-moderate-income borrowers.

The FHA rural housing program is expected to involve about $1.5 billion in loans insured by the agency. That is expected to increase to about $1.8 billion during the next fiscal year beginning July 1.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department's first report issued by its own blight information center made it clear the information was being handed out as a joint effort by federal and state authorities.

The report, released on Tuesday, said mainly that it was too early to make predictions on the possible extent of corn blight in 1971 and warned farmers and the grain trade against unfounded rumors.

EIGHT PERSONS DIE IN HEADON CRASH
WHITEHILL, Ill. (AP) — Eight persons — six in one family — died of injuries in a head-on collision of two autos Thursday night on the Cache River bridge on Route 37.

There were no survivors of the accident in rural Pulaski County.

Five members of the Donald Flannigan family of Cypress, Ill., died at the scene. A sixth member, Cathy, 12, died of injuries at Massac Memorial Hospital, Metropolis.

State police reported that an auto driven by Teddy Sisk, 20, of rural Vienna, traveling north, crossed the bridge center line and hit the southbound car driven by Flannigan, 36, head on. The Sisk auto overturned and burned. Sisk and a passenger, Greg Mathis, 19, of Vienna, died in the crash.

Besides Donald Flannigan and Cathy Flannigan, the other deceased members of his family in the crash are his wife, Wilma Dean, 36; Brad, 10; Dennis, 19; and Ruth Ann, 16.

Julie To Be MATRON OF HONOR
WASHINGTON (AP) — Julie Nixon Eisenhower will be the matron of honor at the June 13 wedding of her sister, Tricia, to Edward Cox.

Junior bridesmaids at the White House ceremony will be two daughters of President Nixon's brother Edward—Annette, 13, and Elizabeth, 11. Cox's sister, Mary Ann Cox, 25, who graduates this month from Yale's school of architecture, will be the bridesmaid.

Press secretary Constance Stuart said the groomsmen for the wedding will be announced soon.

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONER
AP Newsfeatures
Traffic signals and signs have become the most important regulators and safety factors in all cities throughout the world.

Recognizing these "signs of the times," West Germany has a two-part stamp series honoring its new traffic regulations.

The first part of the set features a school guard crossing, a "right of way" sign, a stop sign, and a pedestrian crossing. The values are 10, 20, 30 and 50 pfennig.

The second segment has just been released. It shows the following: 5 pfennig—an auto signaling its intention to move into the left-hand lane prior to passing; 10 pf.—a standing obstacle sign; 20 pf.—proper signal before returning to the right-hand lane after passing a vehicle; 30 pf.—an auto honoring the pedestrian's right of way in a crosswalk.

Also issued by the Federal Republic of Germany were two new stamps commemorating EUROPA—the ideal of a united Europe. Both stamps depict identical symbolic designs illustrating the word "Europa" across interlocking links.

The German stamps are available at your local stamp store or dealer.

In tribute to the 75th anniversary of the Collectors Club, there will be a significant international philatelic exhibition in New York from Nov. 26 to Dec. 1. It will be called ANPHILEX '71.

One section will feature 600 frames containing selections from the finest stamp collections in the world. Another section will be devoted to a display of the great philatelic rarities—including the British Guiana, the famous Post Office Mauritius cover, the only known Alexander blue U.S. Postmaster cover, a block of four U.S. 24 cent inverted airmail, among items

7-YEAR-OLD KIM DEVELOPS INTO KARATE VETERAN
HIGHLAND, Ind. (AP) — Kim Plaut is capable of breaking a one-inch pine board with the palm of her hand. But her mother has warned 7-year-old Kim against breaking tables, despite the urgings of her classmates.

Under the guidance of her father, Tom Plaut, a third-degree black belt holder, Kim has developed into a karate veteran. She won the American Karate Association Open title in her class last March.

Kim performs in "kata" competition, where participants are judged on their ability to execute 44 karate moves. The contestants compile points by displaying moves against imaginary opponents.

Kim's father says she used to watch as he taught at his private karate school, then imitated him in front of a mirror. She's competed against youths up to 16 years old but has yet to meet another girl in competition.

POLLUTION VARIANCE
National Starch and Chemical Corporation, Merced, Calif., has filed with the Environmental Protection Agency and Pollution Control Board a Petition for a Variance. Title IX of the Environmental Protection Act provides for individual variances upon proof by petitioner that compliance with specific provisions of the Act and related regulations would impose an "arbitrary or unreasonable hardship." The petitioner alleges such a hardship, and seeks to operate its waste treatment plant in violation of SWD-8 until December, 1972.

Forgotten Graves Are Restored Again

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — For decades they lay pretty much forgotten, the graves of hundreds of Jews who joined the ranks of wealth-seekers who poured into the Sierra east of here in the Gold Rush of the 1850s.

The Jewish communities buried their own in small separate cemeteries in six towns along the route of what is now California Highway 49.

When the groups owning the cemeteries disbanded by the turn of the century, five of the burial sites generally fell into neglect, filling with weeds, leaves and other litter over the years.

The sixth cemetery has been cared for by Julius E. Beer in his native town of Sonoma for 70 of his 94 years. He took over the task from his father, Mayer, who died in 1897.

But one by one, the other cemeteries are being restored and documented in a continuing project to preserve that part of California's Jewish heritage.

The nonprofit Commission for the Preservation of Pioneer Jewish Cemeteries has restored and rededicated graveyards so far in Sonoma, Placerville, Grass Valley and Nevada City. Still to be restored are the ones in Jackson and Mokelumne Hill, as well as one in Virginia City, Nev.

The commission is a public trust of the Jewish L. Magnes

Memorial Museum in Berkeley. Dr. Robert Levinson, commission executive vice chairman, arranges for synagogue youth groups from as far away as the San Francisco Bay Area to tackle the restoration chores.

"First we take an inventory of the graves and make a copy of the Hebrew and English on the gravestones," Levinson says. "Then we draw a map of the cemetery."

Levinson, a U.S. history professor at San Jose State College, says his research of Gold Rush Jews has only revealed three who were miners. Most were shopkeepers and other businessmen.

Between 1848—the year gold was discovered at Sutter's Mill—until 1880, the Jewish community in the gold country numbered about 1,000.

After the gold fever died down, Levinson says, "a few stayed on and ran businesses, but most moved on to San Francisco and other parts of the West."

"The cemeteries were the focal point of the Jewish community," he adds. They also point to a picture of the tough times the pioneers faced: most of the tombstones are of persons in their 20s and 30s.

The earliest known grave in the six cemeteries is at Sonoma where Hartwig Carl was buried in 1839 at the age of 17.

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH

AP Newsfeatures

Four gates of the old walled city of Jerusalem will be depicted on four new stamps by Israel to celebrate its 23rd anniversary of independence.

Jaffa Gate is Jerusalem's most important. It bears its name because it opened the way to Jaffa, her port in ancient times.

New Gate was built in 1890 to allow easier access to the Christian quarter from neighboring convents and monasteries.

Shechem Gate, sometimes called Damascus Gate, refers to the road which starts from it and goes to Shechem and continues to the Syrian capital.

Herod's Gate is named after King Herod who was responsible for much of the buildings in old Jerusalem.

Illustrations of these four gates and a souvenir sheet are available at your local dealer or stamp department, reports the Israel Philatelic Agency in America. Also reported was the issuance of a new stamp honoring that country's fallen war dead. The design features the insignia of the Defense Forces—the sword blade and olive branch.

In recent years there has been a sharp increase in burglaries of stamp dealers throughout the country. To help deter such thefts, the American Philatelic Society has been urging members to install burglar alarms. In fact, the APS has a special campaign called "Operation Stop Thief" to inform and help dealers prevent thefts.

A report by the APS is most encouraging since several of its members tell that because of burglar alarms there was no loss. The thieves were frightened by the loud ringing of the bells and police were soon on the scene.

The United Nations has issued a new commemorative stamp honoring the World Food Program. It comes in two denominations—13 cents red and 80 cents purple.

Right Kind Of Legwear For Every New Look

By AP NEWSFEATURES
In today's fashion scene, your wardrobe can be as varied as your whims. And for each new look there's the right kind of legwear.

According to a major stocking manufacturer, the fabric sets the mood. For example, a simple little shirtdress looks quite different in a silky, shiny fabric than it does in denim.

In the same way, bold or exotic prints project a different air from thick, nubby tweeds. The function of hosiery is to be part of that mood, whatever it may be.

Here's how to add a touch of excitement or subtle flattery with contrasting or complementary legwear:

For silky, shiny fabrics, your best bet in stockings or pantyhose are sheer colors, glitter and shiny yarns.

Lightweight fabrics such as matte jerseys or crepes should be paired with a matching matte look in sheer or semi-opaque hose in delicate textures.

Thick knits go best with opaques, either in color or neutral shades, or with classic knee-highs in rib, cables, argyle, semi-opaques and heather.

Ultra-thin sheer fabrics such as voiles, chiffons and georgettes demand pale colors or darkly neutral hose with lacy looks and sheer textures.

New prints, with their accent on graphics, geometrics and oriental themes, call for sheer or semi-opaques in a pickup or matching ground color.

For the understated look of rustic fabrics—denim, canvas, poplin or corduroy—try a mix 'n' match effect with complementary or contrasting opaques, heathers, classic patterns and knee-highs.

Remember, also, each item of hosiery is an investment in fashion. To protect that investment, follow these wash and wear tips:

Pay careful attention to size instructions on each package. Most packages now carry a height weight chart.

Don't renege the fabric if you can't get a right fit. Slip the pantyhose back to your ankles and start over. If they were too long, don't pull quite so hard on the second try. If they were too short, stretch the fabric a bit more firmly as you work it over the thigh.

Always compensate for the fragility of ultra-sheer nylon by guarding against rough hands or nails when putting hosiery on. Never leave stockings on top of the bureau or carelessly subject them to contact with jewelry, car keys or other sharp objects.

43 KINDERGARTEN CHILDREN IN CASS GO DOWNTOWN

ASHLAND—Forty-three children of the kindergarten class of the Ashland grade school enjoyed a field trip to the business district of Ashland last Friday.

They visited the Ashland Fire Station where Norm Ashland, volunteer fireman, showed them how the department operated.

The children stopped at the Postoffice and walked through the business district. A unit on "Community Helpers" had been studied by the class before the trip, and the bank, barber shop, the police station and stores were all places they had studied.

Mrs. Francis Newell, librarian at the Ashland library, opened the library in the morning to allow the children to look at books and to have story time there. Riding on the school bus was a new experience to many of the boys and girls, and they enjoyed the trip to town and back to school.

A stop for ice cream cones was considered a fitting conclusion to the trip. Mrs. Donald McMorris, Mrs. Don Parsons, Mrs. Robert Lockley assisted the teacher, Mrs. Kay Gardner, on the trip.

Plane Crash In Arizona Kills Twelve

COOLIDGE, Ariz. (AP) — An Apache Airlines twin-engine plane crashed into a cotton field Thursday, killing all 12 persons aboard, authorities said.

It was the first crash of a scheduled airliner in the continental United States since November, 1959.

Ramon Flores, an irrigator in a nearby field, said he looked up when he heard a plane approaching from the south, an engine sputtering. Flores said the plane was approaching at tree-top level.

"Suddenly it went straight down and crashed," said Flores. "It exploded and there was a big cloud of black smoke."

He called police. Final county Sheriff's Sgt. Truman Loveless said the plane was carrying 10 adults and two pilots.

The plane, Flight 22, left Douglas, Ariz., earlier Thursday. It made stops in Sierra Vista, site of the U.S. Army Electronics Proving Grounds at Ft. Huachuca, and Tucson before continuing on toward Phoenix. The plane was scheduled to go on to Las Vegas, Nev.

The airline is a small feeder service which connects the smaller Arizona communities with Phoenix, Tucson and Las Vegas.

Forgotten Graves Are Restored Again

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — For decades they lay pretty much forgotten, the graves of hundreds of Jews who joined the ranks of wealth-seekers who poured into the Sierra east of here in the Gold Rush of the 1850s.

The Jewish communities buried their own in small separate cemeteries in six towns along the route of what is now California Highway 40.

When the groups owning the cemeteries disbanded by the turn of the century, five of the burial sites generally fell into neglect, filling with weeds, leaves and other litter over the years.

The sixth cemetery has been cared for by Julius E. Bear in his native town of Sonoma for 70 of his 94 years. He took over the task from his father, Mayer, who died in 1897.

But one by one, the other cemeteries are being restored and documented in a continuing project to preserve that part of California's Jewish heritage.

The nonprofit Commission for the Preservation of Pioneer Jewish Cemeteries has restored and rededicated graveyards so far in Sonoma, Placerville, Grass Valley and Nevada City. Still to be restored are the ones in Jackson and Mokelumne Hill, as well as one in Virginia City, Nev.

The commission is a public trust of the Jewish L. Magnes

Memorial Museum in Berkeley. Dr. Robert Levine, commission executive vice chairman, arranges for synagogue youth groups from as far away as the San Francisco Bay Area to tackle the restoration chores.

"First we take an inventory of the graves and make a copy of the Hebrew and English on the gravestones," Levine says. "Then we draw a map of the cemetery."

Levine, a U.S. history professor at San Jose State College, says his research of Gold Rush Jews has only revealed three who were miners. Most were shopkeepers and other businessmen.

Between 1848—the year gold was discovered at Sutter's Mill—until 1880, the Jewish community in the gold country numbered about 1,600.

After the gold fever died down, Levine says, "a few stayed on and ran businesses, but most moved on to San Francisco and other parts of the West."

"The cemeteries were the focal point of the Jewish community," he adds. They also point a picture of the tough times the pioneers faced: most of the tombstones are of persons in their 20s and 30s.

The earliest known grave in the six cemeteries is at Sonoma where Hartwig Carol was buried in 1833 at the age of 17.

43 KINDERGARTEN CHILDREN IN CASS GO DOWNTOWN

ASHLAND — Forty-three children of the kindergarten class of the Ashland grade school enjoyed a field trip to the business district of Ashland last Friday.

They visited the Ashland
Fire Station where Norm Akers-land, volunteer fireman, showed them how the department operated.

The children stopped at the Postoffice and walked through the business district. A unit on "Community Helpers" had been studied by the class before the trip, and the bank, barber shop, the police station and stores were all places they had studied.

Mrs. Francis Nowell, librarian at the Ashland library, opened the library in the morning to allow the children to look at books and to have story time there. Riding on the school bus was a new experience to many of the boys and girls, and they enjoyed the trip to town and back to school.

A stop for ice cream cones was considered a fitting conclusion to the trip. Mrs. Donald McMorris, Mrs. Don Parsons,
Mrs. Robert Lockley assisted the teacher, Mrs. Kay Gardner, on the trip.

WIPCO Will Meet Electrical Demands Of Rural Customers

Careful plans are being made to provide Western Illinois Power Cooperative, Inc. (WIPCO) members with electricity in the years ahead, Donald B. Brington, general manager of the Jacksonville-based organization, has reported to cooperative leaders.

Brington, who was in the Jacksonville, Fla., area for the annual meeting of the seven district cooperative executives who receive their power from WIPCO, said the cooperative has more than 30,000 members in 21 central and west-central Illinois counties. WIPCO's generating plant is located on the Illinois River at Pearl, southwest of Jacksonville.

Brington said he had no doubt about WIPCO's ability to meet rapidly growing needs of cooperative members for dependable power. "But," he added, "supplying these needs requires the most careful, accurate and long-range planning that's what we're concentrating on now."

Donald Kerr, Sr., of Warsaw, president of Western Illinois Electrical Corp., Carthage, presided at Wednesday's meeting.

3 Tax Appeals To Be Heard Here May 19

SPRINGFIELD—Two appeals of the assessed valuation of residential properties in Morgan county and one appeal on farm property will be heard by the Property Tax Appeal Board Wednesday, May 19, at Jacksonville, according to John K. Morris, chairman.

Morris said the appeals will be held in the supervisor of assessments' office in the Morgan county courthouse. The appeals will be appealing decisions by the county's board of review relating to the assessed value of their property.

The appellants are: Mary E. Doherty, c/o McElroy's Nursing Home, Jacksonville, seeking a $2,700 reduction on residential property located at 100 W. State St., Jacksonville, 10:30 a.m.

Clyde Dorney, R.R.2, Mirapolis, seeking $9,200 reduction on farm property, 11 a.m.

Edward J. Christopher of Jacksonville, seeking $1,170 reduction on residential property located at 404 N. Laurel, 11:30 a.m.

Two Injured In Accident Near Waverly

Waverly—Two persons were taken to Memorial Hospital with injuries suffered in a one-car accident on Route 104 five miles east of here Friday evening.

The injured were the driver, Newell May, 32, and his passenger, Anna May, 30. Both are Springfield residents.

State police said May was passing a truck with an overpass when his auto went off the highway. May lost control and the vehicle swerved across the highway again, struck over a telephone pole, then down part of a fence and came to rest in a corn field. No tickets were issued.

Woman Fined On Drug Charge

A Jacksonville woman entered a plea of guilty to attempting to acquire drugs by forging a prescription, before Judge John E. Wright Friday morning and was ordered to pay a fine of $50 and $15 court costs.

Jean Brubaker, 38, of 214 North Church was charged with the offense April 26 by city police after she reportedly attempted to secure 30 capsules of amphetamine.

STEPPIN STONE

Alexander, Ill. NOTICE Saturday, May 8, 1971. Open 8:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. at 1000 N. 1st St. Jacksonville, Fla.

Gordon L. Ropp, director of the Illinois Department of Agriculture, was the principal speaker. He lauded this nation's cooperatives for their ability to make the constructive efforts of vast numbers of citizens seeking to improve their way of life and to find solutions to almost countless problems affecting both urban and rural residents.

Recently returned from an agricultural trade visit to Japan, Ropp urged greater efforts to promote the export of America's farm and other products.

He termed food in the United States today a "best buy." "We spend less than 14% percent of our disposable income here on food," he said. "In Japan the percentage is 35; in France, 45; in Russia, 50; and in India, 64."

Ropp said Governor Richard B. Ogilvie, the national administration and other concerned groups are diligently promoting agricultural sales in Japan and elsewhere.

And he had high praise for the Japanese people with whom he had so recently visited. "They are fine businessmen and industrial salesmen," he said. "They are deeply appreciative of honesty, integrity and sincerity, particularly in business dealings. And they are interested in buying high quality products, particularly farm products, from the United States."

The Illinois director of agriculture stressed the need for united efforts if rural areas are to be developed and made more prosperous. He predicted marked progress in this program. Russell Stauffer, master, Illinois State Grange, addressed the cooperative leaders briefly. He pointed out that the National Grange long has been keenly interested in many phases of rural area development and has been working effectively in this field.

The Grange also, he said, is well aware of the vital role the nation's nearly 1,000 electric cooperatives are playing in the betterment of rural areas—and the resultant increased prosperity for their urban neighbors. "We have in the past supported the fine efforts of these cooperatives," he added, "and we expect to continue this support."

Albert J. Cross, director of the Legal and Public Affairs Department of the Association of Illinois Electric Cooperatives, (AIEC) Springfield, introduced both Ropp and Stauffer on behalf of the electric cooperatives. He discussed legislative activities of the electric cooperatives and said these are designed to benefit "all the people of Illinois."

The association is made up of Illinois' 27 distribution and three generation cooperatives who provide power for more than a half-million individuals, businesses and organizations.

Sheriff's deputies investigated the theft of three sets of harness from the horse barn at the Morgan County Fairgrounds Friday morning.

I. H. Thompson of Route 1 reported the loss to sheriff's deputies at 9:45 a.m. Friday. Thompson placed the value of the harness at about $300.

CARS COLLIDE AT INTERSECTION

Two cars collided and the teenage driver of one received a ticket for operating without a city wheel tax sticker. According to police records, Steven J. Rawlings, 17, of 745 East Chambers street pulled from a parking place at 10:35 a.m. Friday and accelerated rapidly northbound. A car driven by Thomas E. Hayes, 330 North Church street, was attempting a turn left and the vehicles collided at the South Payette and West Morgan street intersection.

A mechanical failure, resulting from the collision kept Rawlings from being able to stop his vehicle before it continued further north for a distance of a block. The car was brought to a halt by using the emergency brake. No injuries were suffered by either driver. Rawlings received the ticket.

Episcopal Churchwomen Topic: Discrimination

The Episcopal Churchwomen of Trinity Church held their last meeting of the year Tuesday evening, May 4, at the home of Mrs. Robert Silbert, 3 Book Lane. After invocation by the rector, Rev. William N. Malott, a bountiful potluck dinner was served from a table gaily decorated with spring flowers.

Following the meal Mrs. William C. Gross, president of the group, presided at the business meeting which was opened with the ECW prayer, followed by appropriate devotions given by Mrs. W. R. Bellati.

It was announced that 52 percent of the women of the church participated in the recent United Thank Offering and that the organization would be represented at the regional ECW meeting in Morton, Illinois May 6 by Mrs. Lucius Shepard, district chairman of Home Prayers, Miss Elizabeth Lambert and Mrs. Gross. Included in the business of the evening was a vote to give $200 to the Jacksonville Day Care Center. It was announced, too, that there will be a Sidewalk Sale June 4 at Trinity's Harris Hall.

The speaker of the evening, Mrs. Robinson pointed out that much remains to be done to alleviate the employment problem, but that the biggest obstacle facing the commission is that of continued discrimination in housing. She stated that improved housing has been found for many persons and that the new housing law has been explained to those refusing to rent or sell to black people. In spite of rebuffs, the commission continues to operate on the premise that more can be accomplished through understanding and persuasion than by force.

Two Hertzberg Scholarships Announced

Hertzberg-New Method, Inc. has established two $1,200 annual scholarships at MacMurray College in memory of Lawrence E. Hertzberg, former company chief executive and a member of the MacMurray Board of Trustees.

The scholarships will be awarded annually for the next four years, according to George Clark, vice president of the bookbinding firm which operates plants in Jacksonville and Chicago. First priority in awarding of the scholarships will be given to children of Hertzberg-New Method, Inc. employees, Mr. Clark said. Also to be considered will be children of librarians in Illinois.

Mr. Hertzberg, who served as president of both the local firm and of the Monastery Hill Bindery in Chicago, died October 5, 1970. He was a resident of Barrington, Illinois.

Driver Fined $500 On DUI

Magistrate Paul Fenstermaker assessed a fine of $500 and $10 court costs and admitted a Jacksonville man to probation for six months on his plea of guilty to driving while under the influence of alcohol.

George H. Wright, 41, of 770 South Payette entered the plea stemming from an incident April 17. He was charged by city police.

In other court action, Ben Baskin, 17, of 824 South Knappe, who entered a plea of guilty to driving without a valid operator's license and was fined $50 and $10 costs.

Charts Relief For Education Money Strife

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—The executive director of the Illinois Board of Higher Education said Friday that Master Plan III may chart a national direction in relieving economic difficulties for universities and colleges.

Dr. James B. Holderman told the Illinois Junior College Conference that the success of the plan depends on the cooperative efforts of the board, university administrators, faculty and students.

Master Plan III was adopted earlier this week at a two-day board meeting in Chicago and calls for an integrated state system for the sharing of resources among public and private universities.

Holderman said the problems confronting higher education demand "new responses on the part of all of us, including the realization that the private sector must be helped in order to help society meet the growing demands for broadened and innovative educational opportunities."

Bluffs Resident Dies In Accident Friday

CURRAN—A rural Bluffs man was killed in a one-car accident about 1/4-mile east of here at 6 p.m. Friday.

State police identified the victim as Charles R. Hill, 44, of Route 1, Bluffs. Hill was apparently the lone occupant of the auto.

The accident, which is still under investigation, occurred at a construction area in the roadway of Route 24-24.

Police said Hill's westbound auto drove off into the center curbing of the divider under construction. The auto straddled the curbing, then overturned onto its top.

The body was taken to Memorial Hospital in Springfield.

Louise Hankins Dies Friday At 80 Years Of Age

Mrs. Louise Hankins, 80, a resident at 124 Diamond Court for many years, died Friday morning at the Smith-Tucker Nursing Home on North Church street following an extended illness.

Mrs. Hankins was for many years a psychiatric aid at Jacksonville State Hospital until her retirement.

She was born at Metropolis Aug. 2, 1890, daughter of Otto and Henrietta Fahrbackcamp Bergande. Her husband, James Francis Hankins, preceded her in death in 1935. Four children survive: Mrs. Frances Byers and Joe Hankins, both of Jacksonville; Wallace Hankins, Tracy, California; and Howard Hankins, Wichita, Kansas. There are 13 grandchildren and 18 great grandchildren.

The deceased was the last of her immediate family.

Friends may call any time after 1 p.m. Saturday at Williamson Funeral Home.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Sunday at the funeral home with Rev. Harold Woodworth officiating. Burial will be in the Metropolis cemetery Monday.

Consider Eleven Missouri Sites For Air Facility

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Eleven Missouri sites are being studied for a second major St. Louis airport, Ron Moore, the state's airport engineer said Friday.

Moore said the sites will be given a "preliminary" examination then the Warren, Ill., site proposed Wednesday by the St. Louis Metropolitan Authority.

The evaluation of the Missouri sites is part of a $125,000 study authorized by the state legislature. It is being conducted by the airport systems organization of the Northrop Corp., of Los Angeles.

"The entire study will be keyed toward what value a new airport is going to have on the people who use it and live near it," Moore said.

St. Louis Mayor A. J. Cervantes, who has advocated an Illinois site from the start, has said expansion of Lambert St. Louis Airport would displace more than 50,000 persons.

One of the Missouri sites being studied is Lambert Airport.

Other sites include the Columbia Bottoms area of northwest St. Louis County, five sites on either side of Interstate 70 between St. Charles and Wentzville, the Smart Field area in northern St. Charles County, two sites near O'Fallon in Jefferson County and one at the junction of St. Louis, Jefferson and Franklin counties.
